

REVISION
MILITARY

mission critical eyewear®

Revision Sawfly® System Feedback

"We are extremely impressed with these glasses and highly recommend them for RFI to Soldiers. I have worn them nearly every day for the last three months, both under the Kevlar and the Mitch helmets, and almost constantly while off duty. These safety glasses are both stylish and comfortable while offering superior eye protection. They are scratch resistant, flexible, shatter proof, and come with [interchangeable] lenses and a durable carrying case. I have never been an advocate for safety goggles of any sort, and don't typically wear any eyewear regardless of the circumstances. The SAWFLY eyewear has changed that perspective single handedly.

I have worn the Wiley X glasses/goggles intermittently in both Afghanistan and Iraq, and they sit untouched in my wall locker between deployments. The Revision Eyewear lends itself to daily wear in the field and in garrison, and therefore offer better eye protection simply by constant consumer use."

*SGM C.L.R.
82nd Airborne Division, Fort Bragg*

"LTC _____ passed these glasses off to me. I've tested them while training for Iraq. These glasses are incredibly comfortable. These look better than the issued glasses. Here at FT Bliss, the sun shines brightly every day and I use these dawn to dusk. I would love to own another pair for backup. I'm also interested in your goggles – If they are half as good as your glasses, I want a set!

1LT J.C.

"One of us ran across your Sawfly system, tried it out, loved it, and spread the word. Your RX carrier system is superior to others because the lenses stay more or less parallel to the wearer's face, reducing distortion... We were all wearing our Sawflys upon arrival to Afghanistan, and on all of our subsequent missions. My job was .50/MK 19 gunner, and the Sawflys kept the majority of the wind out of my eyes, and they were comfortable and durable.

On one mission, we were on our way to the AO riding on a paved road, and the truck in front of mine was hit with an IED. The gunner was wearing his Sawflys which caught some shrapnel, none of which penetrated. We are all very grateful that your company makes a superior product..."

SPC M.T.

"I would like to say thank you to those who make and sell the revision military eye protection. Upon a patrol in Baghdad my stryker was hit by an IED. I sustained some lacerations to the face from fragmentation and the military revision eye protection saved my eyes from certain blindness."

*SGT N.B.
2nd Platoon Mad Dogs 18th Engineer Company*